THINKING TO THEM.

Haue you not reason then to bee ashamed, and to forbear this filthy noueltie, so basely grounded, so foolishly receiued, and so grossely mistaken in the right vse thereof? In your abuse thereof sinning against God, harming your selues both in persons and goods, and raking also thereby the markes and notes of vanitie vpon you: by the custome thereof making your selues to be wondered at by all forraine ciuil Nations, and by all strangers that come among you, to be scorned and contemned. A custome lothsome to the eye, hatefull to the Nose, harmefull to the braine, daungerous to the Lungs, and in the blacke stinking fume thereof, neereft resembling the horrible Stigian smoke of the pit that is bottomelesse.

PROQUEST INTERFACE

The screenshot shows a Netscape browser window titled "ProQuest - Netscape" with the address bar set to "http://proquest.umi.com/pqdweb". The browser's toolbar includes buttons for Back, Forward, Reload, Home, Search, Netscape, Print, Security, and Stop. Below the toolbar is a bookmarks bar and a navigation bar with links for Instant Message, WebMail, Contact, People, Yellow Pages, Download, Find Sites, and Channels.

The main content area features a search interface with a "New Search" button and three search methods: "by word", "for publication", and "by topic". A yellow banner with the "ProQuest" logo and "BELL+HOWELL" text is visible. Below the search methods are links for "RESULTS LIST", "MARKED LIST", and "PREFERENCES", along with a "HELP ?" button.

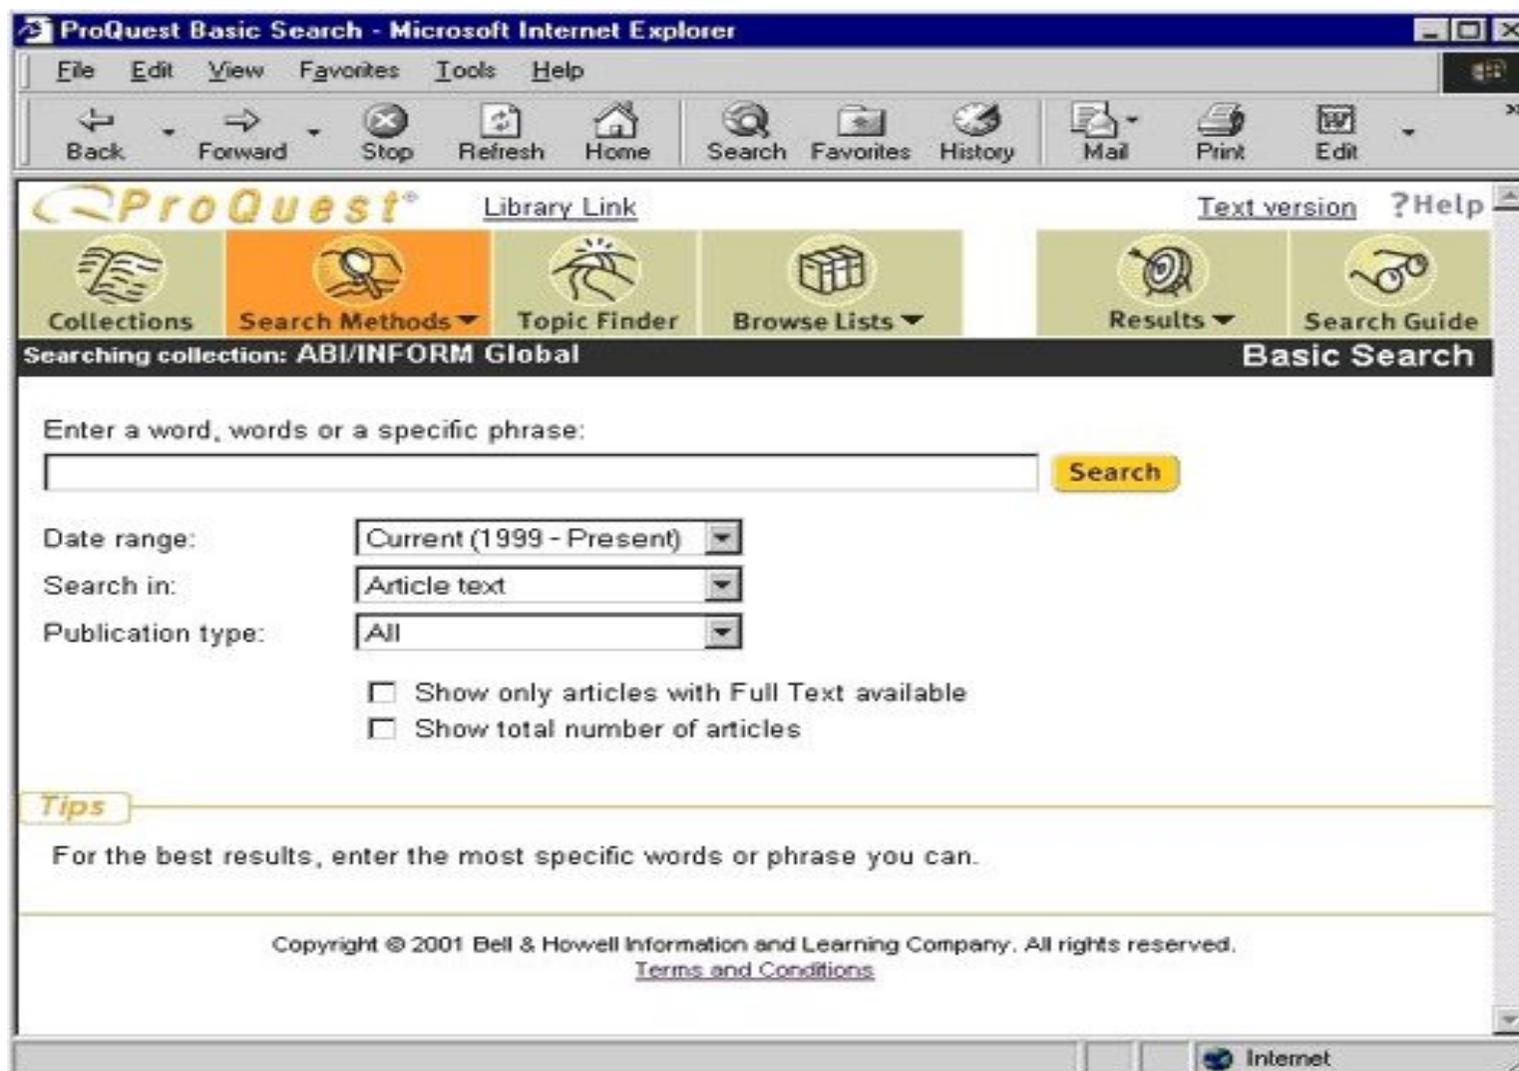

The "Search by word — basic" section includes a search input field, a "Search" button, and three tabs: "BASIC", "GUIDED", and "NATURAL LANGUAGE". The "BASIC" tab is selected. Below the input field are three dropdown menus: "Date range:" (set to "Current (1999 - Present)"), "Publication type:" (set to "All"), and "Search in:" (set to "Citations and abstracts"). To the right of these menus are three checkboxes under the heading "Limit to:": "Full text articles", "Peer reviewed", and "Show number of articles", all of which are currently unchecked.

At the bottom of the search section, there are four links: "Search Wizard", "Subject List", "Your Recent Searches", and "Change Database". The text "Searching: ALL databases" is displayed above the "Change Database" link.

The footer of the page contains the "BELL+HOWELL" logo, the text "Information and Learning", and a copyright notice: "Copyright © 2000 Bell & Howell Information and Learning Company. All rights reserved." A link for "Terms and Conditions" is also present.

The browser's status bar at the bottom shows "Document: Done" and a taskbar with various system icons.

KERR-MCGEE MADE a decisive strike in the battle for titanium dioxide (TiO²) market share when it bought most of Kemira's business earlier this year (CW, Feb. 23, p. 7). But some say KerrMcGee made a tactical error: The company paid $403 million-way over most analysts' expectations-in a deal that included Kemira's Savannah, GA plant. That unit has one of the worst environmental reputations in the U.S. chemical industry, receiving a string of consent orders from the Georgia Environmental Protection Department (EPD; Atlanta) during the past 10 years market watchers say.

OSHA recently issued citations against one of the two TiO₂ plants at the site for 71 violations and proposed fines of more than $92,000. The fines followed a five-month investigation that began after Kerr-McGee had acquired the plant. OSHA cited the plant for violations in emergency planning, training, worker safety, process safety, and

Kerr-McGee's business cocktail is made up of hydrocarbons and chemicals. The nonintegrated oil and gas company has proved reserves of 1.1 billion barrels of oil equivalent. Kerr-McGee explores for and produces oil and gas mainly in the Gulf of Mexico and the UK North Sea, as well as in Africa, Asia, Europe, and Latin America. The company also makes industrial chemicals -- it is a major producer of titanium dioxide (a white pigment used in paint, plastics, and paper) -- and operates plants in Australia, Europe, and the US. Kerr-McGee has sold off most of its noncore operations to
